David Barnett (Musical Adaptation, Arrangements, and Musical Director) A Port Washington native, David has enjoyed a varied musical career. He worked with playwright Pamela Meadows, a fellow Port Washington native, to create the original musical Fair Liberty's Call: A Musical Story of Revolutionary America, and he has played and conducted all productions of the show and its recording. He also worked with Pamela Meadows arranging the score for her adaptation of Red, Hot and Blue for the Cole Porter Estate. In 1983, he conducted in Paris From Broadway to Hollywood with Dee Dee Bridgewater and Patti Lupone. For one year, he travelled the world on Holland America Cruise Lines conducting all their stage productions. David has also conducted productions of West Side Story, On the Town, and Kiss Me, Kate! In 2006, one of the highlights of his career was an opportunity to assist Constantine Orbelian, conductor of the Moscow Chamber Orchestra, prepare the chorus for opera great Dmitri Hvorostovski's concert in London. Pamela Meadows (Musical Score and Original Story, Book and Adapted Lyrics) A lifelong resident of Port Washington, Pam is a playwright, librettist, and theater educator who is best known locally for decades of community work done in tandem with her husband of forty years, Ron Meadows. In 1972, she became the co-founder and artistic and dramatic director of the Port Washington Teen Summer Theater - predecessor of the highly successful Port Summer Show program that is still in existence today. At the same time, she was the creator and the dramatic director of original script adaptations of classic stories for the annual Port Washington Play Troupe Children's Show. As a result, in 1977, she and Ron were awarded the Community Chest's prestigious Citizen of the Year Award for their work in the arts with the youth of the Port Washington community. Pam's endeavors as a professional writer grew directly out of this community-based work and resulted in children's projects done for BBC London, the Blue Marble Company and Greenstreet Studios; musical theater projects for the Cole Porter Estate and Musical Trusts and the Nederlander Organization; as well as dramatic projects commissioned by the Actors Theatre of Louisville and optioned by independent producers for presentation in New York City - which afforded her the privilege of working with such award-winning actors as Marian Seldes, Jessica Hecht, Daisy Eagan, David Huddleston, and Anne Hathaway. Pam extends her heartfelt thanks to many wonderful people whose talent, generosity, creativity, and loving support have continued to carry this project forward on its unique journey. Most especially, she extends her deep and abiding gratitude to Kate Beckman whose incredible industry and unrivaled devotion to Fair Liberty's Call has breathed new life into the project and made this evening possible.

Sharaé Moultrie (Maggie) is elated to be performing in the cast of Fair Liberty's Call. A South Carolina girl at heart, Sharaé has performed throughout the Tristate area, singing at renowned NYC venues such as Joe's Pub at the Public and at The Bitter End. She has most recently appeared in the Astoria Performing Arts Center's production of Follies. Some of her other favorite roles include Aida (Aida); Dreamgirls (Deena); and Violet (Lula Buffington). Special thanks to her family and friends for their support! Follow her on Instagram: @sharae

Doug Vandewinckel (Oliver Hallam) is pleased to continue his long association with Fair Liberty's Call, and to join with both old friends and new in this special performance of this original musical. He is a familiar face to many audiences in the region, appearing in a variety of venues and productions, including: Fiddler on the Roof (Tevye); 1776 (Franklin); My Fair Lady (Doolittle); Man of La Mancha (The Padre); Sweeney Todd (Judge Turpin); Guys and Dolls (Nicely Nicely); The Will Rogers Follies (Clem Rogers); The Fantasticks (Hucklebee); Oliver! (Mr. Bumble); A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum (Senex); Ragtime (J.P. Morgan); Witness for the Prosecution (Sir Wilfred Robards); The Music Man (Charlie Cowell); Into the Woods (Narrator/Mysterious Man); The Importance of Being Ernest (Chasuble); and Shakespeare in Love (Burbage). Many thanks to his wife and family for their continued support, and to audiences everywhere for supporting live theatre.

From The Director

Welcome to our loyal supporters of Fair Liberty's Call - and to those of you who are joining us for the first time, welcome to the family. With grants from Humanities New York and the Decentralization Program, a regrant program of the New York State Council on the Arts, we have revisited and reworked the script into the chamber musical that you will see tonight. This more intimate version of Fair Liberty's Call brings you closer to the action. It also immerses you in the events portrayed, making the script better suited for smaller venues such as libraries, schools, museums, and historic sites.

Our goal is to entertain as well as to spark interest in American history and events surrounding the American Revolution. After watching the show, perhaps you will question the issues presented and the relation between American history and the world in which we live today.

To all of you joining us this evening, and to the talented and dedicated creative team and company that bring this story to life - thank you.

We hope that Fair Liberty's Call will be adopted by other venues to inspire audiences, from students to seniors, to revisit and explore American history. The creative team is currently collaborating on a "pocket version" of the script that will be especially ideal for museums and historical sites.

As director, a dream of mine is to be able to present Fair Liberty's Call in a tavern setting while audience members dine on shepherd's pie and enjoy a bumper of ale with the action of the evening's events taking place around them. Meanwhile, this evening, enjoy your step back into the 18th century. And to the future ... Huzzah!

From The Historical Consultant

We hope that this evening's performance of Fair Liberty's Call will not only entertain but bring you closer to what life was like in the 13 colonies in 1775. We hope it will spur you to rethink ethical, historical, and philosophical questions surrounding the American Revolution. This show depicts a specific place and time, but we hope it is one with universal resonance. At a time when American political questions can ignite fierce passions, it is good to look back and see that our time is not really so different.

There are many difficult questions raised in Fair Liberty's Call, some of which we have not fully answered even now, after more than 200 years have passed. Which path should we take: loyalty or resistance? How do we measure what each one means? What is the meaning of freedom to a slave? To an indentured servant? To a woman who must navigate in a world of violent men?

When you go home this evening, we hope that you will ponder some of the questions raised by the performance:

How did the events surrounding the American Revolution differ from government and politics today? How are they the same? Was the American Revolution truly our first civil war?

Was the promise of independence realized and, if so, was it worth the price? It has been said that "those who do not remember history are condemned to repeat it." Do you agree or disagree with that? What does freedom look like?

It is our fondest hope that, in addition to treating all your senses to a delightful entertainment, our performance tonight will encourage you to think, debate, and discuss the questions raised in Fair Liberty's Call, and to see that, across almost two and a half centuries, the same conversation goes on.

Varsity Choral Society Seeking Singers

The Varsity Choral Society will present its 29th annual Holiday Concert on Dec. 16 at the Congregational Church of Manhasset, at 4 p.m.

Singers of all skill levels are welcome, as rehearsals are held Tuesday from 8-10 p.m. in the music room at the Congregational Church of Manhasset on Northern Blvd. Newcomers are warmly welcomed by other members, which is a part of the choir's tradition.

The VCS, under the direction of Craig S. Tocher for the past 14 years, typically will sing a serious choral work for the first part of the program and lighter, seasonal pieces for the second part. Some of its members will perform solos and some sections of the choir are rounded out with professional singers. The result is concerts of a very high caliber, and always with an organ and string orchestra accompaniment.

Persons interested should reach out to Red Horowitz, VCS founder and president, at 917 288-1793 and/or redhorowitz@gmail.com.
